CITY INTELLIGENCE [For Additional Oity Intelligence see Pro. Page.]

NEW RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of citizens was held last evening at Central Hall, Frankford road and Master street, for the purpose of forming a relief association regardless of party, sect, or secret organizations. The meet-ing was organized by cathing Mr. John Fredericks to the chair. Air. Fredericks said it was proposed to form an association for the purpose of aiding members at the unie of death. If a member dies, whatever sum is fixed noon by the ociety would be given he manily. If one dollar should be the sum, then each memoer would contribute that amount; sad, should there be a thousand members, the wirow would receive one thousand dollars. It is proposed to have a fixed rate of per centage, to be deducted from the sum for the purpose of liquidating the ordinary expenses of the society. To this end a further sum will accene, and be made a sinking fund, by the enfrance fee of one dollar. It is jurther proposed that an amount be paid a member in the event of the death of his wife. This sum was suggested to be fifty cents, to be assessed on each member, as before provided,

DISTRIBUTION OF TRACTS .- The report of he Episcopal Female Tract Society states that over 200,000 pages were given to missionaries for distribution, and still the Society were anable to meet the demand. The following officers have been elected for the present year:—Directress, Mrs. Dueschet; Treasurer, Mrs. Lathrop; Seare tary, Miss H. P. Smith; Malancers - Christ Church, Miss West; St. Peter's, Miss Burton; St. James', Miss Gillaspy, Miss Elbert; St. Andrew's, Miss Phillips, Mrs. H. Ralston: frinity, Southwark, Mrs. Bell: St. Stephen's, Mrs. Rudder, Mrs. Wil-liam Lippincott: St. Luke's, Germantown, Miss Webb; Epiphany, Miss van r'elt; St. Luke's, Mrs. Green, Miss E. Maule; St. Mark's, Mrs. Henry Reed, Miss E. Williams; St. Philip's, Mrs. Hilde-burn; Holy Trinity, Mrs. J. S. Biddle; St. Cle-ment's, Mrs. McCrea, Mrs. Ephraim Clark.

A RARE CURIOSITY .- To the museum of the University of Pennsylvania has been added within a day or two a sliggiar novelty. It is a picture in two colors, red and black, representng the Crucifixion, with candles and altar at the foot of the cross, and above it, in large letters, the word "firi." Above is a handsome repre-sentation of the insignla of the United States, with a spread eagle perched upon the shield. The article is a picture, but the material upon which it is painted is the skin of a seaman's arm. In the South seas, during the watches, a sailor may often be seen dozing, while a forecastle artist is tattooing his arm. The picture is var-nished like canvas, and enclosed in a suitable

A BOLD SWINDLE .- On Tuesday night a boarder at the Girard House was swindled out of one hundred and tifty dollars. A stranger made his acquaintance, and escorted his victim to the "Congnental," and themee to the second floor of the hotel. Here an individual, whom the stranger represented was a tobacco merchant, stepped up to the stranger and requested him to pay one hundred and fifty dollars. The stranger pulled out a five bundred dollar bill, and said that he had no change; then, turning to boarder, he asked the loan of the amount. The boarder, without suspicion, loaned the money. The stranger has not been heard of or seen since.

THE COAL EXCHANGE AND THE RAIL-ROADS.-A special meeting of this body was held yesterday, at which nearly all the large operators were represented, when resolutions were adopted approving of the contract entered into by the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, the East Pennsylvania Railros J, and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, for the construction of a through Pue of railroad from the West, through the coal regions of Penusylvania to the cities of New York and Philadelphia, and stating it to be the duty of the Corn Exchange and its members to lend all aid in their power to the proposed enterprise.

THE PRESS CLUB.—At the meeting of the Press Club yesterday afternoon, an essay was read by John M. Grier, Esq., of The Evening Telegraph. He took for his subject "Journalism among the Border Rufflans."

twenty-fourth annual meeting of this Institution took place this morning at the College Hall, Sixth and Callowhill street. This meeting was principally for the reading of essays, bringing forward important facts in pathology, new remedies, and some of the later improvements in surgery. The meeting was designed to be entirely of a profiable and practical character. The treatment of matignant cholera constituted one of the topics for discussion.

MEETING IN REGARD TO THE JUDICIARY. -The following petition is circulating for signatures, having received the approval of many leading members of the Bar:— The members of the Philadelphia Bar are invited to attend at the Supreme Court Room, on Saturday morning next at 12 o'clock, to take into consideration the subject of additional court accommodations, additional judges, and more adequate compensa-tion of the judiciary."

AN IMPOSTOR .- A man has been going about among the community soliciting money to take him and his family to Boston, where he pretends to have been offered a lucrative position. He is a stout, well-dressed man; says he is a Dane, a teacher of languages, with a wife who gives instruction in music. He generally insinu-ates himself into a house a ter dark, deceiving the servant by his polite manner, and familiarly inquiring for the master of the house by name.

BEAT HIS WIFE .- Peter Haffery was arraigned yesterday alternoon, charged with peating and abusing his wife. Mrs. H. testified that she had been subject to severe beatings for the past seven years at the hands of her husband. Only yesterday morning Peter beat her in a most shocking marner for allowing a dog to leave the He was bound over to answer in the sum of $1000 ball.

PLEASANT WALKING-Snow fell very fast yesterdey afternoon and evening. At 11 o'clock at night it was seven inches [deep. Hall and rain set in slightly, and made travelling ex-tremely disagreeable. Quite a number of sleighs were out, and the bells made music in the streets. At 2 o'clock this morning it commenced to rain, and the streets will be in capital condition for pedestrians.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—The following gentlemen have been elected officers of the Philadelphia Drug Exchange: —Directors—Wil-liam Gulager, M. G. Rosengarten, William M. Wilson, Robert Shoemaker, Randolph Satter, George H. Ashton, David C. Landis, Secretary— Harrison Smith. Treasurer-H. S. Zeigler.

TEACHERS' SALARIES .- The Finance Committee have agreed to report the bill making an appropriation to the Controllers of the Public Schools for 1866, with the item increasing the salaries of the School Teachers stricken out. There were five members of the Committee in favor of retaining the item and five against it.

NEW PROPELLERS .- Two propeller steamships, each of about 800 tons burden, are now being built at the yard of the Kaighn's Point Ship Building Company. They are to be constructed with a view of placing them upon the route between this city and the Southern ports.

THEFT OF HARNESS .- A negro boy named Charles Moore was committed vesterday after-noon to answer the charge of the Isroeny of three horse-collars and other harness from the William Penn stables. The accused acknow-

General Sherman's Latest Letter.

The following is the text of General Sherman's letter to a friend in Louisiana, recently published in a Southern paper:-

"I have seen several numbers of the Louisiana Democrat, in one of which is made a common mistake, which I have observed before, attributing to Bragg and Beauregard my appointment as Superintendent of the State Seminary, is 1880. I was at Leavenworth City, a member of a law firm, when General Buell, then a Major in the Adjutant-General's office, on duty near the Secretary of War, Governor Floyd, sent me the invitations for applicants for the didecent professorships, which he had received from General G. Mason Graham. I applied and was appointed just as you were at the same time.
"Beauregard had no agency in the matter at all,

and Bragg, who was my triend, had no know ledge that I was an applicant, for he told me that, ignorant of the fact, he had recommended Jenkin-for the same office. I am under no per-sonal obligations to either Bragg or Beauregard in the matter, though both were most friendly to me all the time I was in Louisiana, but not in a way to lay me under obligations to any body that could quality my allegiance. I was hired by a contract, carned my pay, and received it. "Again, the idea is given out that I left Louisi-ana pledged not to take service against the South. That you know is absurd. At that day no one at the South expected war; but I also told you and others that war was the inevitable result of secession. In my last interview with Bragg, at the hotel in New Orleans, I may have said that I did not go North to seek military service, which was true; for I came here (St. Louis) and cor-responded with you from here. Even our Northern papers mistake my position. I refused to enter the volunteer force first called out by Lancoln—the seventy-five thousand call—because I considered that the Revellion bound to involve the whole South, and could be handled only by vast armies, and these of regulars. I urged an army so large as to make ur Rebellion ridiculous.

But events have dritted otherwise, and, thank God, it is over. I think such a thing never will be dreamed of again. I wish you all we'll; wish the South well, and it I have been scourge, think how much better that it was I than Ben Butler, or some other of that school. Present me kindly to your associates, and write me fully and frankly as of old, "Your friend, W. T. SHERMAN."

A PICTURE OF OHIO DEPRAVITY. Under the heading we glove, the Cincinnati Commercial gives the following account, from a correspondent, of a curious sermon preached in Columbus, Ohio, last Sunday :-

"The audience hall of the Town Street Me tho dist Episcopal Church, the largest in this city, was crowded Sunday evening to its utmost capa city, many being compelled to stand during the entire exercises, and many more were unable to gain admission, the occasion being the second delivery (by request of his congregation) of a sermon by Rev. R. E. Felton, on the comparative statistics of religion and iniquity in Columbus. He took his text from the interview of Abraham with God, respecting the descriction of Sodom, and proceeded with the remark that in all cities, ancient and modern, a few hai been righteons and many wicked. He then proceeded with the following statistics of religion and iniquity in Columbus:-Whole population, thirty thousand; consider one-half as children; there remains, of adults, fifteen thousand; of these he estimated the regular and irregular at tendants upon Divine worship at five thousand, leaving the devil ten thousand. "There are sixteen Protestant churches, supported at an aggregate annual cost of twenty two thous and four hundred dollars. This seemed a large sum for religious purposes, being four dollars and a half per capita of church-going population. He classified the statistics of infquity under four heads, viz.:—Whiskey setling, for which the internal revenue tax amounts annually to seven thousand dollars, and the whole cost of which is about one million two hundred thousand dollars; licentiousness, which supports fifty-five houses of prostitution and seven hundred and fifty prostitutes, costing for mainte nance of its female victums alone four hundred and tifty thousand dollars; gambling, one mil-The literary departments of the St. Louis papers were referred to at length, and the gentiemen connected with them as editors and reporters described. College.—The at three million seven hundred and thirty-three thousand dollars. He admonished his hearers that cholera and other judgments of Providence might be expected to visit the abode of so much pollution, and might take the innocent with the guilty. His sermon was listened to with pro-tound attention, and has created quite a sensation in the community."

-President Labarce, of Middlebury College, has issued an appeal for $100,000 for that in-stitution. Towards this $45,000 has been subscribed, conditionally, but unless $15,000 more can be raised, none of it will be paid. The Pre-sident says he has tried to raise it in Boston, but there are too many agents there to allow of success, and the Vermonters themselves must come to the rescue.

-A trial at the assize court at Digne shows in —A trial at the assize court at Dighe shows in a terrible light the pastoral manners of the French shepherds on the pastoral slopes of the Alps. A boy twelve years old. Millon by name, brought up in the loundling hospital of Mar-seilles, gave another boy, named Boniface, two years his junior, a two sous piece to mind his flock while he went to play. On coming back to his post he asked for the two sous again. Little to his post he asked for the two sous again. Little Boniface said they were his pay, according to the agreement, and refused to give them back, whereupon the shepherd of twelve years old took up a stick and battered out the brains of the shepherd of ten. When he was dead he took the penny piece, which constituted the casus belli, out of his pocket, and taking the precaution to strip his sheep of their hells, in the hope that to strip his sheep of their bells, in the hope that the sound might not fix the attention of the neighbors upon the locus in quo of the crime, the young Tityrus drove the flock home. All this he confessed when arrested. The jury found that he had committed a murder "with discernment," and he was sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment.
